

Let the Public Tell You What They Think of Dr. WYETH and His Painless Dental Methods.

During the few months my Washington offices have been in operation my patronage has steadily increased until today it is far in excess of that of any number of local dentists that you could mention. This patronage shows what the general public has learned by experience (the best of all teachers)—that Dr. Wyeth does just what he says—extracts teeth without the least pain, fills teeth and applies Gold Crowns and Bridgework without the least pain, beautifies the mouth, restores plumpness to faces drawn and wrinkled by loss of natural teeth or because of poorly constructed artificial teeth.

The Best Proof of Merit in the World

My first Washington patients came because they knew of my superior dental methods, either due to the fact that they had been successfully and painlessly treated in some of my other offices throughout the United States, or knew of some one whom we had treated. These people were so satisfied with my methods that they told their friends, and these friends told others, and so on in an endless chain until my daily patronage has reached its present truly tremendous extent.

DON'T WORRY ABOUT THE MONEY

Our liberal terms enable giving immediate attention to your teeth instead of allowing them to be ruined while saving enough money to have them properly attended to.

My Low Prices Defy Competition---Quality Considered

The extent of my patronage is all that makes possible these low prices—prices that other dentists cannot begin to compete with on work that anywhere near approaches mine in quality.

Twelve Dead, Hundred Wounded in May-Day Conflict.

ANARCHISTS FIRE ON COPS

Mob Dispersed by Charges With Drawn Sabers.

RED FLAG ROW AT DETROIT

Parade Suppressed by Force—Boston Bakers Strike—Rain in New York—All Quiet in France.

BUENOS AIRES, May 1.—The May day celebration organized by the various workmen's unions resulted in serious demonstrations today, and an engagement between the rioters and police, in which five men were killed and a large number wounded, of whom several died later.

According to official statements a group of anarchists fired upon the police, wounding five of the officers. The police charged their assailants with drawn sabers and revolvers.

They fired into the mob and struck right and left with their swords. Five of the rioters were killed, twelve were seriously wounded, while many more escaped with lesser injuries.

The police succeeded in dispersing the mob with considerable difficulty.

Later a big crowd gathered before the hospital to which the wounded had been taken and advanced upon it in a threatening manner, demanding that the wounded men should be handed over to their friends. The police charged them again and drove them into the side streets.

Several of the wounded died this evening. It is stated that the deaths now number twelve. Not less than 100 persons were wounded.

The conflict between the police and the manifestants was provoked by an anarchist, who killed the horse of one of the police with a bullet from his revolver, at the same time wounding the policeman.

When the police charged there was a fusillade of shots. Within a few minutes the streets appeared littered with dead and dying, the remainder of the rioters fleeing in all directions.

Seventy arrest have been made.

Red Flag Parade in Detroit; Put Down by Police Charge

DETROIT, Mich., May 1.—The determination of the police that red flags should not be carried by a group of Italian socialists holding a May-day parade this afternoon resulted in a small riot in East Grand Circus Park, just above the hotel of the business section on Woodward avenue.

When the leaders of the socialists applied to Police Commissioner Smith today for permission to parade they announced their intention to carry their red flags. The commissioner forbade this.

They might parade and carry United States flags, he told them, but no red flags should be carried in the streets. The socialists declared they would carry them without permission.

Thereupon Commissioner Smith ordered a large squad of mounted police assembled at the downtown police headquarters, with about 200 police on foot. When the parade gathered at the park this afternoon the police marched to the scene.

When the parade leaders started to unfurl their red banners the police seized them. The socialists resisted, and fought hard to retain them.

They were overpowered, however, and their banners seized. Several of the socialist leaders were taken to headquarters.

With the seizing of the flags the police broke up the crowd gathered and scattered the would-be paraders, ordering many individuals who were wearing red ribbons to remove them.

New York Meeting in Rain.

NEW YORK, May 1.—Ungracious May-day weather here today spoiled the plans for a "monster" parade, mass meeting and demonstration in behalf of labor.

Fewer than 3,000 of the expected 50,000 persons turned up for the parade, while only 400 men with umbrellas stood in Union Square, chosen for the meeting, and listened to the speakers.

There were a dozen or more of these on the program. Only a few of them succeeded in getting a hearing, as a downpour that was like a cloudburst in its severity practically broke up the meeting half an hour after it began.

Rose Pastor Stokes and Jan Janoff Pouten, the revolutionists who escaped deportation to Russia after a hard fight, were among the speakers at a mass meeting in Yonkers.

The striking bakers had a demonstration of their own during the day. Thirteen hundred of them, in white caps, marched through the East Side, carrying banners which urged the populace to buy union made goods.

The most successful of the out-of-door demonstrations planned for the day was the parade of the United Hebrew Trades and the First Aid Society of the socialist party. Nearly 4,000 persons marched in their parade, and several thousand more attended the meeting which they held late in the afternoon in Union Square.

Bakers Quit Work.

BOSTON, May 1.—The only May-day disturbance in Boston was the strike of 172 Hebrew bakers in Boston, Chelsea, Cambridge and Somerville.

The elaborate arrangements which had been made by the government to meet any contingency evidently had a deterrent effect upon the agitators. Response to the call for the proletariat to take part in a twenty-four-hour strike was feeble.

The leaders of the General Federation of Labor explained tonight that they had merely practiced a "bluff" on the government, having had no real intention of putting their necks in the noose which the government had prepared. They announced that when the great naval strike, which they are secretly organizing, is ready they will surprise both the government and the people.

50,000 Men on Strike.

The police figures place the number on strike in Paris as only 22,252, but probably double that number would be near correct.
